Do Your Mea's Fit?

Could you have patted your rotundity in glee and felt proud of your appetite and of your good strong stomach? Do you feel rosy now because your last meal gave you no inconvenience whatever? If not, you have dyspepsia in some form, and probably never realized it.

tie or how much you eat, there is trouble brewing and you must correct it at once.

Most all stomach troubles come from poor, weak, scanty gastric juice, that precious liquid which ought to turn your food into rich, red blood.

If you have nausea, your gastric juice is weak. If you have sour risings or belchings, your food is fermenting; your gastric juice is weak. If you have loss of appetite, your gastric juice is weak. If you have a bloaty feeling of aversion to food, your gastric juice is weak.

You need something in your stomach to supply the gastric juice which is scanty, and to give power to the weak gastric juice. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing.

Now think—one grain of one of the ingredients of these wonderful little tablets digests 3,000 grains of food. They are several times more powerful than the gastric juice in a good, strong, powerful stomach. They actually digest your food for you. Besides, they increase the flow of gastric juice, just what you need to get all the good nossible out of every to get all the good not of gastric juice, just what you need to get all the good possible out of every-The "American" committee has practically abandoned its plan to head off a labor ticket altogether. Why Our Clothing Department Is Upstairs

In Mr. Adams' long experience in the clothing business he has found that the average man is somewhat sensitive about taking off his coat and vest to see how the new suit fits when he is subject to the gaze of the public. He has learned, too, that a clerk who is to sell you a suit will give you better attention if his mind be not distracted by intrusion of customers and other clerks. Hence the customer gets better attention and generally a better fit. Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes are the best clothes made and sold. They ought to have all the care in selection, in showing and in fitting that their character deserves. Hence the Metropolitan Upstairs Clothing Department in their Salt Lake home. Every suit, as you can see by the picture, is hung up in a dust-proof glass case and as carefully cared for as it would be in your own wardrobe. It's worth the time of any man to walk up a few steps to buy his clothes--first, because they are
